

Habitat of a Millipede

Lives in the woodlands

rolls up in a ball
when scared

Does not bite or sting.
Harmless to people.

Eats decomposing vegetation.
This means they eat leaves and other plants that are breaking down on the forest floor.